News Around Town

By Mrs. Calvin Robinson

I liked this one:

A couple of commuters were bragging about their children. One said, "When my son went to college, it only took his three years to get his B. A."

The second commuter scoffed. "That's nothing. When my daughter went to college it only took her two years to get a Ph. D."

The first commuter gasped. "That is impossible," he sputtered. "How could she get a Ph. D. in ony two years?"

The proud father said complacently, "For her it was easy. She married him." —Wall St. Journal.

A picture and feature news story about Mrs. Crawford Davidson, was carried in Sunday's issue of the Chattanooga Times, of Chattanooga, Tenn. The article was written by Times staffer, Margaret Norris. Included in the picture was Beverly Lou, young daughter of Mrs. Davidson.

Mrs. Davidson and daughter were in Chattanooga to visit Mr. Davidson. "Miff" is a star right fielder of the Chattanooga Lookouts of the Triple A Southern Association.

The article featured an interview describing what it means to be the wife of a professional baseball player. It also was complimentary to Mrs. Davidson for her interest in civic life in her home of Appomattox.

Mrs. Davidson has filled four scrapbooks with clippings about the baseball achievements of her husband. She gets the Chattanooga newspaper each day.

Chattanooga is currently in fifth place in its league, six games out of first. Davidson has been a "long-ball hitter" this season, and has a good record in runs-batted-in, and home runs.

Relayed to our reporters by Mrs. George Koos (nee: Virginia Christian, of Appomattox) of Tangent, Oregon, is the following recipe for strawberry shortcake. It made a cake 12 feet wide, 16 feet long, and 4¼ feet high. The cake weighed 5,358 pounds, and served 12,000 people. It was served at the recent Strawberry Festival in Oregon:

600 lbs. of flour
30 lbs. baking powder
600 lbs. of sugar
300 lbs. of milk,
200 lbs. of shortning
2 gallons of flavoring
300 lbs. of eggs
12 lbs. of salt
200 gallons of soft ice cream
2,500 lbs. of fresh strawberries.

As this goes to press, we are taking off for our annual visit to Nags Head, N. C. Both Father Darkleaf and I have new bathing suits, and we hope for some sunshine and a couple of delightful days along this wonderful Carolina outer bank. A visit to Nags Head has come to be a "must" on our calendar. Last year we waited until late in the season, and the very week-end we had reservations, 'Hurricane Hazel' came along. Nags Head did not see us that week-end, but we followed through a week later.

We note in driving around town, that a considerable portion of the equipment left here a year ago by Williams Bros., Pipeline contractors, is now being moved out. Appomattox had a big year in 1956, and a major contribution to the boom was the presence of the 450 or more "Pipeliners" and their families. And it came to mind this month, in checking over the latest financial statements of local banks, that our community has done well to just about keep abreast of the 1955 comparable figure on "money in the bank" because we have not had the "pipeliner boom" to keep us up there in 1956.

Ground has been broken for the residence to be built by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cawthorne, located on Lucy Street.

Application forms for benefits under the new War Orphans Educational Assistance Act are not yet available, nor have the governing regulations been received by the Roanoke Office of the Veterans Administration. Eligible persons appear to be already planning their fall schooling, judging from the number of letters and telephone calls coming in daily since the President signed the bill into law.

Vet Educational Program

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Coleman, of Lynchburg and Mrs. R. E. Coleman and son, Ken, will spend the week-end in Richmond, where they will visit R. E. Coleman, a patient at the McGuire Hospital. We are glad to report that Mr. Coleman is recoving satisfactorily.

Mrs. R. E. Coleman spent yesterday in Roanoke, where she attended the Southwest Virginia Ford Dealers' Accountant Club meeting at the Hotel Roanoke.

TOO EFFECTIVE

Charlotte, N. C.- An elderly woman went to the local Red Cross chapter office here and handed over a batch of unopened personal mail. Puzzled, the officer worker asked what she could do for the visitor. The visitor pointed to the cancellation stamp on each of the envelopes, which read, "Give to the Red Cross."

Fifty-Five Pupils Enrolled In Hebron Vacation Bible School

COURTESY IS CONTAGIOUS

(Note: The following was quoted by Prof. Jerry Miller at the recent Tourist Clinic in Appomattox).

The stranger who comes to our city
Is like the guest who visits our home.
We can make him want to come back again,
Or wisn he'd vacationed in Rome.
From the time that he enters our borders,
The tourist is big business for all,
And if we can all work together,
The wanderers will answer our call.

Good beds and excellent service,
Are offered by homes and hotels;
But fees come first in many of them
And so the visitor yells.
Our guests don't mind paying for service,
In fact, they expect to do so.
But if they pay and don't get it,
They'll be in a hurry to go.

We're famous for ham and for spoon bread,
Other dishes are known far and wide;
People will come just to taste them,
If restaurants have nothing to hide.
Good food and courteous service,
Make people remember our state.
And when they tell others about us,
You can bet that they'll say where they ate.

The retailer gets some of the money
From the tourists who travel our way,
If employees are helpful and sunny,
We'll make our guests want to stay.
Unless he detects a slight accent,
Or the tourist asks for direction,
The merchant has no way of telling
If she's from nearby or some other section.

Serving all customers with interest,
With attention to all their requests,
Causes both visitors and residents,
To buy what the merchant suggests.

HOMEMAKERS CLUB HOLDS OUTING

The Young Homemaker's Club of the Concord community held a regular meeting Saturday evening in the form of a family picnic on the lawn at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Martin.

Guests included the families of club members and members of the Concord Young Farmers group. Approximately fifty persons enjoyed the supper.

HOMEMAKERS ITEMS

Many favorite recipes that have been in your family for years can probably be simplified.

And you can do some of this streamlining yourself, say nutritionists at VPI.

For instance, instead of adding sugar gradually to egg whites as you whip them for a pie meringue, you could add the sugar to the eggs whites at the beginning and whip them together. The whipping will take a little longer, but you won't have to add the sugar a little at a time, and so can do something else while the whites are whipping.

When you make a cream pit filling or cornstarch pudding, instead of adding part of the hot mixture to the egg yolks and then putting this mixture back into the pudding, you can put the egg yolks in at the beginning. In other words, mix the dry ingredients together, and add the egg yolks when you add the cold milk.

Freezing Inventory

Keep a careful inventory of all foods you freeze. Write the date, variety, and amount on the package and on the inventory. As you remove food from the freezer, check it off the master record. You'll save time hunting that last box of strawberries that is already gone, and the record can help you decide which foods, and how much, you need to freezenext season.

Revive Leather Handbag

To revive the appearance of the leather handbag you carried last year, try this simple treatment. Clean the bag with a good saddle soap. Dry carefully, then wax with a good paste wax. Cover the bag with a thin film of the wax and rub it carefully. If the frame is worn, retouch it with a light covering of gilt or aluminum and coat with clear nail polish.

DROUGHT HURTS FISH IN STATE

The streams in the Piedmont and western sections of Virginia are becoming low again according to G. W. Buller, chief of the fish division of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries. "Healthy fish cannot live in low water," Mr. Buller said. "Unless we get some general rains soon, many fish in our mountain streams will suffer, and some will even die."

Fifty-five persons were enrolled in the Vacation Bible School at the Hebron Baptist Church last week. There was an average attendance daily of 52. All children enrolled above the nursery class had an attendance record of 100% for the week.

During the week the children had a three hour daily schedule filled with worship, Bible study, mission activities, handwork, and recreation. The children contributed $7.14 for Eagle Eyrie, the new Baptist Assembly Grounds near Lynchburg.

At the Vacation Bible School Commencement Sunday morning, fifty certificates were awarded to those having satisfactory attendance and work during the preceding week. Eugene Carson, Sunday School Superintendent, awarded workers certificates to the following: Mrs. G. P. Jennings, Principal; Rev. Colie E. Rock, Pastor; Misses Laura Carson and Winfred Lee, Music Instructors; Miss Kate Davidson and Mrs. Hugh Branford, Intermediate teachers; Mrs. Kern Mays and Mrs. Virginia Bondurant, Junior teachers; Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison and Mrs. John Burnett, Primary teachers; Mrs. Alice Rock and Mrs. Virginia Davidson, Beginner teachers, and Mrs. Marshall Stratton, Nursery teacher.

The Vacation Bible School week was climaxed by a general Sunday School picnic on Saturday afternoon. Members of the Hebron Baptist Sunday School gathered on the church lawn, where they played croquet, softball, volley ball, horseshoes, and other games of a general nature. A picnic supper was a welcome treat to all and the lemonade must have been good, for about twelve gallons were consumed.

During the afternoon of fun and fellowship, a few moments were taken out to dedicate the new church recreation area. This area is adjacent to the church parking lot, and will provide when complete, picnic tables, fireplaces, lights, and athletic equipment to be used by the church and its organizations, and by the individual families in the community. The church desires that all families in the Stonewall community will feel free to use this recreation area for family picnics, organizational outings or any other worthy purpose.

DRIVERS' LICENSE FEE IS NOW ONE DOLLAR

Richmond, Va.- Many Virginia motorists are not aware that the fee for the renewal of operator's licenses has increased from 50c to $1.00, it was stated today by C. H. Lamb, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, who called attention to the action of the Virginia General Assembly, which at its last session, passed a bill providing for the increased fee to apply to those licenses both original and renewal, issued on and after July 1, 1956.

"The first three working days in July flooded the Division with applications that must be returned to Virginia motorists because they were received with a 50c fee rather than the correct fee of $1.00. This will, of course, cause delay in obtaining renewal licenses," the Commissioner said.

The DMV official pointed out that it is evident in spite of every representative of DMV in Virginia having been supplied with the new renewal applications ahead of the effective date of the new law, that old application forms designating 50c fee have been secured from various locations other than the DMV's authorized agencies.

Commissioner Lamb suggests all motor vehicle operators check their drivers' licenses for expiration date; send in the proper fee of $1.00 by check or money order, to the Division of Motor Vehicles, 2220 West Broad Street, Richmond, Virginia.

DISOBEDIENT

Bloomington, Ill.- When seized by police after he had strolled through the Bloomington business district, smashing 48 plate-glass windows with a lead pipe, James Atkins explained his actions by saying, "The State committee told me not to do it, but I fooled'em."

KEMP LAUDS ROLE OF A STATE C. OF C.

Richmond, Va.- One of the most effective weapons for the maintenance of states' rights is a strong State Chamber of Commerce, wrote Vernon E. Kemp, executive director of the Virginia Chamber, in the current issue of "The Journal," the quarterly published by the American Chamber of Commerce executives.

Kemp, who served from 1939-40 as president of the National Association of State Chambers of Commerce, wrote an article for The Journal entitled, "The Place of State Chambers in the Commercial Organization Structure."

Pointing out that only 29 of 48 states maintain a state chamber of commerce ... this does not include three regional organizations operating in Texas ... Kemp said that "it is significant that those (states) that have strong and well-supported state chambers of commerce also have a higher ratio of economic growth during the past quarter century."

A comparison of the list of state chambers with the latest census reports on population growth, per capita wealth, employment in manufacture, and other economic factors is indicative," said Kemp, "It is further significant that, with a few exceptions, the rate of economic growth in those states with strong state chambers inclined sharply upward after a state chamber was organized, and became effective."

NASH - CARTER

Miss Ellen Grey Carter, daughter of Mrs. Eddie C. Carter and the late Mr. Carter, of Appomattox, was married to Paul Thomas Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter S. Nash, of Spout Spring, Saturday afternoon, July 14, at the home of the bride's mother.

The Rev. L. P. Brown officiated at the double ring ceremony, and the wedding music was presented by Mrs. W. D. Patteson, pianist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Harry D. Carter, wore an afternoon dress of white cotton piqué. She carried a white Bible showered with stephanotis and topped with a white orchid.

Miss Dale Carter was her sister's only attendant. She wore a soft pink dress made like that of the bride, and added white carnations at the shoulder.

The bridegroom had as his best man, his cousin, Clarence Jones.

After the ceremony, the bride's mother entertained with a reception.

The couple left for a southern wedding trip. For traveling the bride changed to a black sheath frock, using white accesories and a white orchid at the shoulder. Upon their return, they will live on Route One, Spout Spring.

Both bride and groom are graduates of Appomattox High School.
